

This is regarding the Field visit organized in village Mukhmelpur (Zone P-II) for the purpose of Land Pooling:

As part of the Public Outreach program been initiated by DDA to create awareness among landowners for Land Pooling, a field campaign was organized in collaboration with NIUA and local stakeholders at village Mukhmelpur on 11.07.2019 (Thursday) at 10 am. The officials of the Planning Department, Land Management Department, DDA and National Institute of Urban Affairs (NIUA) interacted with more than 200 landowners/ farmers/ stakeholders in the awareness programme.

At the outset, a presentation was given by the Planning Department, DDA, explaining the broad aspects of the Land Policy, highlighting the major benefits of planned development. Further, details regarding the technical aspects of pooling such as the concept, terms for participation, participation process, eligibility criteria, how the development of land will be taken up, etc. were explained in detail. Later, representatives of NIUA presented the model sector layouts to the farmers/ landowners, explaining the conceptual drawings as prepared by them.

To make the session more interactive and a learning process for the landowners and other stakeholders, a Question-Answer session was carried out, wherein various queries were raised by the landowners. These queries were clarified by DDA officials and a successful first interaction was thus established between DDA and the landowners in enhancing the participation under the Policy from the grass root level. The discussion ended with a vote of thanks from the villagers.

Further, DDA intends to organize more field camps wherein senior level officers will be participating to interact with the landowners/ stakeholders. In this regard, a detailed schedule is being worked out.
